STAR WARS

IMPERIAL ASSAULT

DENGAR, RUTHLESS KILLER

This pack provides the Dengar, Ruthless Killer plastic figure that can be used when playing a mission. The other components in this expansion are incorporated as follows:

- Add the Deployment cards to their supply.
- If you own the Return to Hoth expansion, the Imperial player can choose the "Punishing Tactics" Agenda set when building his Agenda deck at the start of a campaign.
- If you own the Return to Hoth expansion, shuffle the Skirmish Mission cards into the Skirmish Mission deck. These cards use the "Hoth Battle Station" skirmish map (see below).
- Add the Command cards to the pool of cards that a player can use to build his Command deck.

CONTROL

Some skirmish missions require players to control deployment zones, in addition to tiles or tokens.

- A player controls a deployment zone if there is at least one friendly figure in any space of that deployment zone and no hostile figures in any space of that deployment zone.

"YOU"

Many cards use the word "you" to refer to a figure instead of the player. For example, if a Deployment card reads "While attacking, you may reroll 1 attack die," any figure belonging to that card's group may reroll one die while it is attacking.

- If an effect corresponding to a figure instructs "you" to claim a token, gain VPs, or manipulate cards, or refers to "your" army or figures, "you" refers to that figure's player.

MISSION BRIEFING

After tracking Dengar and his party of bounty hunters for days, your search has finally brought you here. Your intelligence indicates that Dengar will transfer the Rebel operative into Imperial custody in a prisoner exchange in a nearby valley. Only a stinking sewer, an icy mountain trail, and a stubborn rockfall block your path.

"Well, those and Dengar's heavily-armed associates," your pilot reminds you.

- Neutral mission tokens represent obstructions. Rebel figures must spend 4 movement points to enter a space containing an obstruction. Once per activation, a Rebel figure can test ⚙ to reduce that movement point cost by the number of successes until the end of the activation, to a minimum of 0.
- Line of sight cannot be traced and spaces cannot be counted through a space containing an obstruction.
- The mission will progress when a Rebel figure enters a space containing an obstruction (✪). The mission ends at the end of Round 6 or when all heroes are wounded.

IMPERIAL INTERESTS

At the end of Round 2:

- Increase ⚙ by the threat level.
- Deploy the reserved Imperial Officer.

GUARDING HIS PRISONER

The first time a Rebel figure enters a space containing an obstruction:

- Place the Rebel mission token on the blue point.
- The Rebel mission token represents the prisoner. A Rebel figure can retrieve the prisoner.
- The yellow deployment point is now active.
- Deploy the reserved Dengar to the red point.
- Apply additional Health to Dengar equal to twice the threat level.
- Increase ⚙ by the threat level and resolve an optional deployment.
- If Dengar is not on the Holding Zone or Extraction Point, a Rebel figure carrying the prisoner can escape through the Extraction Point.
- The mission ends when a Rebel figure carrying the prisoner escapes (✪).

END OF MISSION

When a Rebel figure carrying the prisoner escapes:

You load the weary prisoner onto your shuttle and blast away from the planet. The operative looks at you and mutters a quiet, "thank you," before he passes out from exhaustion.

- Heroes receive 100 credits per hero.

At the end of Round 6 or when all heroes are wounded:

The bounty hunters keep you pinned down with relentless fire. An engine roars, and in the sky you see an Imperial transport zooming toward the ground. The prisoner is loaded onto the ship, still screaming for your help.

- The Imperial player receives Dengar (Ruthless Killer) as a villain.

ADDITIONAL REWARDS

- Each player receives 1 XP. Heroes receive 100 credits per hero. The Imperial player receives 1 influence.
